As We See It.
 A baseball magazine scoured the country in selecting new men for his club. He chose only those players who lead the leagues in their positions, and paid large sums of money.
 Yet—the team was a failure, and lost the majority of their games simply because of lack of team work—each man tried to show what a good player HE was, instead of working for the good of the team.
 Just so it is with Carlstadt. You yourself have seen small towns of promise DIE because its citizens would not agree.
 On the other hand, you have also seen towns where they did PULL TOGETHER, where a knocker had no chance, — that town is on map today.
 Let's play the game together, pipe the knocker, overlook minor differences—and continue to work for the best interests of Carlstadt. We have a great opportunity before us. Shall we use it?

With this issue, Carlstadt's paper turns its first milestone. One year ago this week Calvin Goss, then proprietor of the Brooks Banner, located here and published "The Carlstadt Progress." Last August the paper changed to the hands of the present proprietors, and for lost reasons, the name was changed to The News. A new and up-to-date selection of type was put in, modern machinery installed, and other changes made, with very good result.
 That aggressive and progressive methods yield fruit is shown by the fact that The News has approximately three times as many readers today as it did the first of last August. The great majority of them are right here in this big district, but there are dozens of them scattered through Eastern Canada and the States—from Washington to Massachusetts, and from Dakota to Texas, who keep in touch with the Blue Bug through the columns of this paper.
 And now Suffield has the factory fever and thinks she's going to be a second Medicine Hat. Dream on, little one and may thy dreams be sweet ones.

Comment.
 According to the latest compilation, Western Canada has this year received 400,000 souls. The statistician of the Agricultural Department at Edmonton states that of this 400,000 over 100,000 have settled in Alberta. Truly 1912 will go down as a wonderful year, but the greatest is yet to be, and we wager that 1913 will see an unparalleled rush to this greatest province. Why do we wager this? There are dozens of reasons, but at present one will suffice. The average American or Britisher who settles in Alberta, leaves many relatives and friends in the old land and his wife is similarly situated. These watch with interest the success of the Emigrant. Every one whose spark of ambition is ever flickering does well, very well here. Result the emigrant is Canada's best advertisement in his former home.
 A million for Alberta is only a very few years off.
 Have you renewed your subscription to the Carlstadt News? When you renew your own think of some friend down east to send it to for you.

 There will be no open season for beaver until January 1916.

BLUE GRASS
 Please do not forget the entertainment, Christmas tree, and dance at Blue Grass School-house, Monday, December 23rd. The entertainment and tree, admission 10c at the door. A dance afterwards, pay extra. Funds to pay for tree, and what is over to go towards a library for school.
 Friday afternoon, Mr. Bousavan, of Strathmore, addressed the farmers of Blue Grass in the school house. Mr. Bousavan is a clear speaker, and thoroughly understood his subject. First he presented in a logical way the fine qualities of the paper, the "Grain Growers' Guide"; the benefits the farmers would receive from the Grain Growers' Co. if they became members. He showed how the co-operative in a short time would control the elevator, machinery, and the price of grain. He was not timid in telling the audience that it was the farmers' own fault that he suffered low prices for grain, and high cost of flour. "And you will continue to suffer and squander unless you wake up!" He attacked the machine companies for selling worthless machinery to farmers, and taking their land, homes, all, in payment. He next introduced the subject of "National Affairs." He held a petition which he wished everyone to sign same to be presented to the House at Ottawa by Clifford Sifton. The petition was considering Roads vs. Drednoughts for Canada. He concluded by explaining direct legislation, showing up the evil practices in representative government.
 Mr. Selbo, Mr. King, Mr. Trivet and Mr. and Mrs. Gray are leaving their respective homes for a visit to the States during the Christmas Season.
 Tax payers, please remember that taxes are due.
 Many are the homesteaders journeying to town getting ready for Christmas.
 Last Week's Letter.
 Last Friday evening a Basket Social was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Labl. A large number were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent.
 The baskets were prettily decorated and of a variety of shapes and a homestead shoe with a cat in two windows a door and a stove pipe caused quite a sensation.
 The baskets sold well. The funds received were in benefit of an organ fund for the district. The organ is sent for and all hope it will be here for Xmas. All went home third and happy in the evening hours of the morning feeling that they had earned a night's repose. Dancing, checkers, and cards helped to fill up the evening entertainment. Mr. Jess, Lemmi Mr. W. Benjamin and Mr. Chastler furnished the music.
 On Sunday afternoon the School house is used for Sabbath School meeting. All are cordially invited to attend.
 Dec. 22nd Monday the Blue Grass School is having a Christmas Entertainment. All come and see Santa Claus.
 Monday afternoon Miss Hilt, teacher at Hoskin and Miss. Kears visited Miss G.N. Harris.

Owing to the condition of the money market at the present time, and the price of grain being so low, and collections slow, it becomes necessary for me to make the announcement that I must put my business on a to commence at once. This is not my wish—but in order to protect myself I am compelled to take this stand. Please do not ask me for credit, as it grieves me more to turn you down than it does you to ask.

I hope that you will look at this in the same light in which it is written, and govern yourself accordingly.

The question having been raised as to placing on letters of stamped gold for raising funds for the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, Postmasters are informed that the Department cannot permit such stamps to be pasted on the front of letters, but that they may be pasted on the back as sealers and are requested to advise the public accordingly.

There is considerable sound judgment in Laurier's proposal to spend Canada's money in Canada and construct the fleet at home. This would entail considerable extra expense to start with—for such things as shipyards, etc., quite naturally, but those things must be done in a few years anyway if Canada is to fulfill her promise of being among the great countries.

Primogeniture.
The law of primogeniture sends each male to the most ancient times. Away back in the patriarchal ages the first born son had a superiority over all his brethren and in the absence of his father was in a very important sense the head of the house. Upon the death of the father he became the heir, and the law, which could not be questioned, the priest and lord of the family, and naturally to him fell the property as well as the honors of the household. Primogeniture wherever it is found today is the lingering remnant of the ancient custom, a custom which common sense and justice pronounce to be as unfair as it is superstitious.

Worked a Problem While Ate.
An Amsterdam banker once requested a professor of mathematics to work out a very intricate and puzzling problem for him. "The professor, thinking the matter good exercise for the intellectual faculties of his pupils, mentioned it to them and requested them to work out the enigma. One of the students, who had pondered deeply over the intricate subject during the day, retired to bed. Some time afterward he arose, dressed, and, settling himself at his desk, worked out the problem accurately, covering sheets of paper with his calculations. He had no recollection of the morning of having done so.

An Unpleasant Revelation.
"My son," said the dying parent, "it is your duty to tell the girl you hope to marry all about yourself—all our faults and weaknesses. That's the true task of love."
"I did," replied the husband. "It wasn't much."
"What did you tell her?"
"Why, you, dad. She didn't really know you were so old, I told her."
"Oh! And what did she say?"
"She said awfully nice girl, dad, and she said she'd tried hard to reconcile herself to the unpleasant truth."

Doubles.
He—"Pon my word, madam, I should scarcely have known you, you have altered so much."
She—"For the better or for the worse?"
He—"Oh, madam, you could only change for the better!"

At Seven Persons

Meers Johnson's and Blanchard trip last week was marked with great success. On account of pressure of business several engagements had to be postponed. While in Seven Persons they were the guests of Mr. F. Stubbs at the King George Hotel. They played for one of the most enjoyable dances held in Seven Persons on Monday night, and were ably assisted by Mr. Beren on his violin. Mr. N.M. Lux made an efficient manager and immediately engaged our local orchestra for a big masquerade ball on Dec. 31st.
